

Experiment Day 1

All plants have germinated and we started to water the plants with the appropriate water solution. We watered 15ml for each plant, then we added additional amount of water in each of the trays. We also started to measure the shoot length of all of the plants that have sprouted.